

2011 Potholes & Prairie Festival

Birders looking for the Baird Sparrow after a ¾ mile hike.

Photo by Rick Bohn

Same birders as above looking for “Sparrows”
on Chase Lake portion of tour.

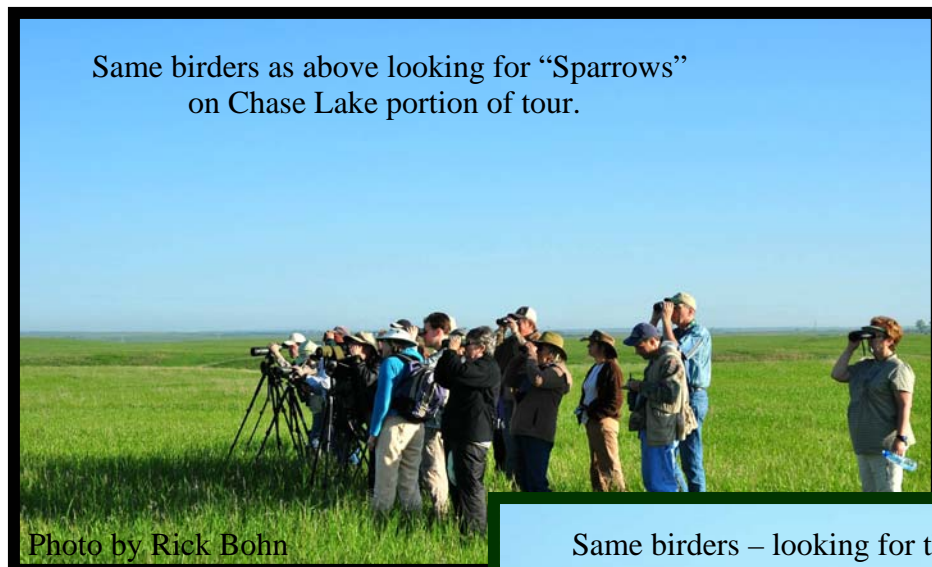

Photo by Rick Bohn

Same birders – looking for the “Sparrows”
on Chase Lake portion of tour.

Photo by Rick Bohn

Birders looking for LeConte's
and Nelson Sharp-tailed Sparrows
in their preferred/prime habitat, the Chicago Lake stop.
Five other species also observed.

Photo by Rick Bohn

Birders looking for LeConte's
And Nelson Sharp-tailed Sparrows
In their preferred/prime habitat, the Chicago Lake stop.
Five other species also observed.

Photo by Rick Bohn

While looking for target sparrows, a flock of Pelicans fly over!

Photo by Rick Bohn

A closer view of the Pelicans that flew over.

Photo by Rick Bohn

Sprague Pipit Safari – Bill Thompson III and Julie Zickefoose on the right.

Photo by Rick Bohn

The Sprague Pipit Safari on break from walking the Prairie hilltops.

Photo by Rick Bohn

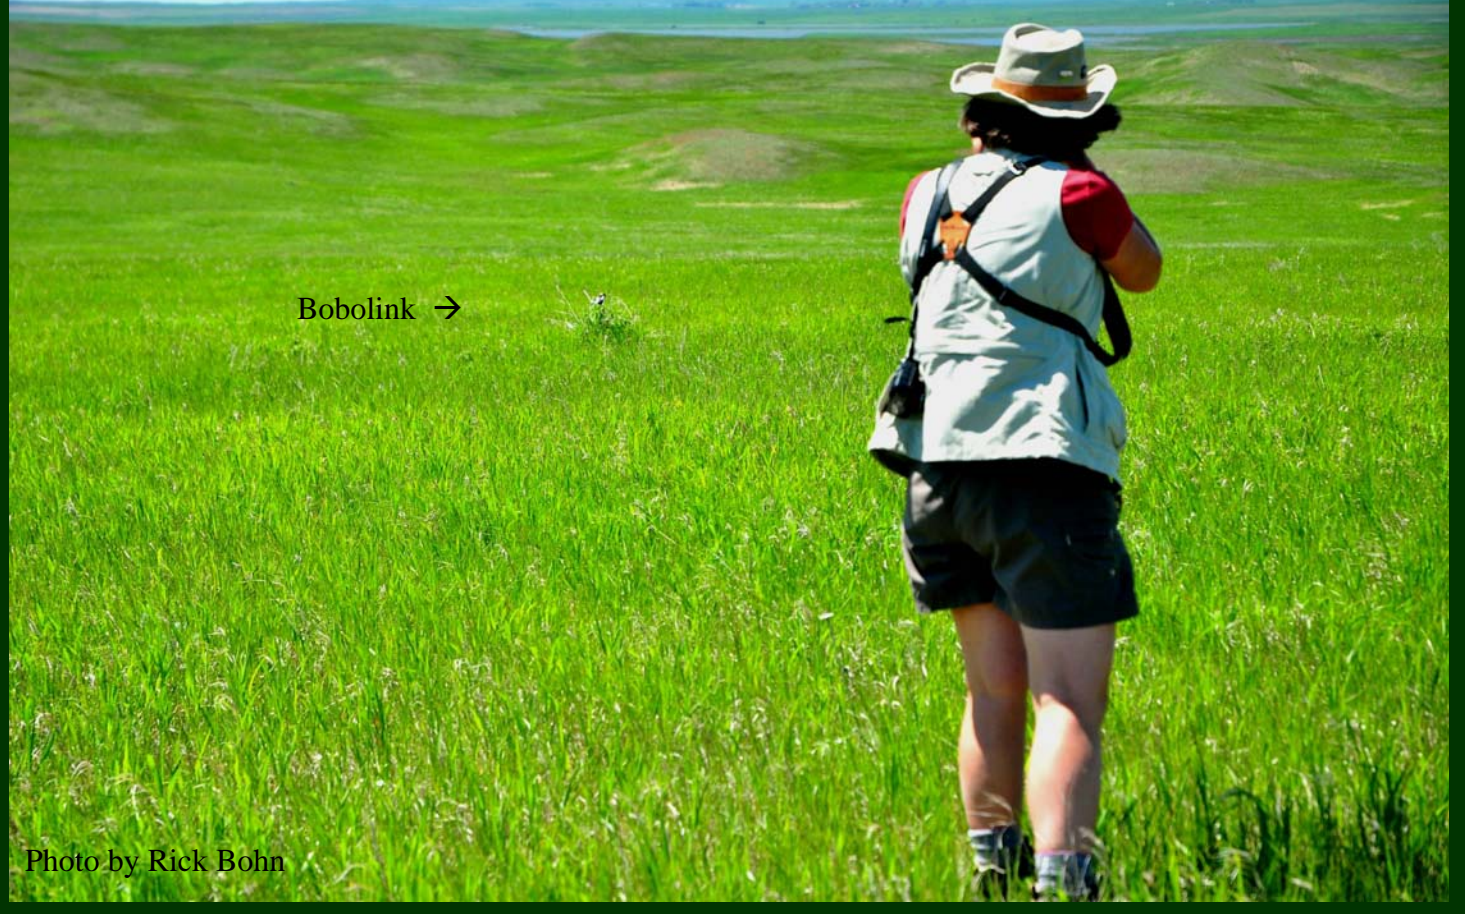

Bill Thompson III and Julie Zickefoose looking for sparrows.

Bill Thompson III and three Birders doing the “Lifer Bird Wave” after finding their first Bairds Sparrow!

Julie Zickefoose taking a photo of a Bobolink.

Bobolink →

Photo by Rick Bohn

Birders walking west to known Baird Sparrow site as the trail was too muddy for the Tour bus.

